

Halloween cut-out crafts

17 cute activities (and not scary at all!) to color, cut, glue and play with at home or at school.

Works in black and white

Before you start

This book brings together Halloween art to color, cut out and build, designed for children ages 2 to 7. No frights here: smiling pumpkins, cute little ghosts and friendly little monsters. Pick one activity at a time, set out the materials and let the child choose the colors — there's no wrong way to do it.

How to print

Print on A4, portrait orientation, at "actual size" or 100%. Regular printer paper works for almost everything; for the puppets, crown, bookmarks, toppers and masks, use cardstock or 180 g paper, which holds up better in little hands. Every page works on a black-and-white printer.

How to read the lines

-  Solid line: color and cut along the outline.
-  Dashed line: cut here (holes and eyes are for a grown-up).
-  Dotted line: spread glue and cover with cotton or string.
-  Fold line: fold here, don't cut.

Which activity for each age

Ages 2 and 3

Build-a-pumpkin, cute little ghost and crown. The grown-up cuts; the child colors, glues and picks the pieces.

Ages 4 and 5

Bat, witch hat, mummy, kitty, little monster and puppets. Great for practicing cutting with safety scissors.

Ages 6 and 7

Spider web, haunted house, bookmarks, toppers and suncatcher. More steps, more independence and room to make up stories.

Quick tips

Use safety scissors and leave small cutouts (mask eyes, the center of the suncatcher) to a grown-up. Set up a "Halloween station" with pencils, glue, cotton, string and popsicle sticks. Then turn the artwork into decorations: on the bedroom door, on the fridge or on a garland around the house.
